VOL. LIX: No. 31 REDWOOD CITY, CALIFORNIA SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1919 ESTABLISHED 1859

AT HOME WITH THE WILD DUCK IN RICE FIELDS OF CALIFORNIA

By CLAUDE FOX

We had a grand time and secured the game for which we went. I believe this article bears me out in the assertion that I had a splendid opportunity to view the productive territory through which we passed and to study its people and their conditions. As to the question regarding the destruction of the rice there can be but one unequivocal decisive answer. The rice grower is right and the Fish and Game Commission absolutely wrong. Why that body should maintain in the face of overwhelming evidence to the contrary, when they are supposed to represent the whole people of this state, that the wild duck is not a destructive agent is the best argument that the governor should abolish the commission as it exists today and place in its stead men of at least ordinary intelligence who can and will do their duty in a manner befitting the responsibilities of the office which they hold. The wild duck is a glutton for food and is not always particular about its character. Remember that the rice land is constantly under water until the crop is nearly ready for harvest. The webfoot has the picnic of his life. He simply swims around in his native element, reaches up and strips the overhanging stalk of its precious burden and continues until its hunger is satisfied. The question is asked why, if the ducks are so destructive does not the rice growers permit hunters to go into the growing fields and shoot to their hearts' content. The question is hardly worthy of answer. What would be the result if even a half dozen hunters, eager in the pursuit of the broadbills, were permitted to wade through a green field of standing rice with six inches of water circulating around its root? The damage would be complete and the crop never harvested. The rice growers have adopted another plan which is far more effective, although somewhat expensive. They have employed two aviators who patrol the fields continually from daylight until dark flying low and practically herding the ducks off the growing grain, at a cost of twenty thousand dollars for the season. Other methods will have to be adopted, as the birds feed at night time and in the morning millions can be seen seeking safety in the large overflowed lands adjacent to the river.

As daylight broke on the opening day the sight was one never to be forgotten. The sky was in some places obscured by the immense flocks. Hunters were everywhere and the sport was on in full blast. For two hours the bombardment was terrific, and the pellets of shot were dropping on our heads from skyward. The birds soon realized that their mortal enemy was in evidence with the result that they flew so high modern shotguns could not reach them. The rapid firing began to tell on us and all who reached camp had more or less of a headache. The sun waxed warm and the shelter of our canvas covering was most acceptable. After a rest we drove into Colusa where an army of hunters had assembled to compare notes. We found that limit bags were scarce and the average birds per man was about seven.

Some had none. Here we met Guy Hull and Professor Montieth who had been quite successful. On Saturday we broke camp with forty ducks and one goose to our credit and started home. We had been rewarded where others failed, had met a class of very fine people and viewed with satisfaction the beautiful cities of one of the most productive and prosperous sections of the state. We found a unanimous purpose and object among the citizens generally, with every man's shoulder at the wheel of success. All worked in unison for the betterment of each other. There were no one-man's cities in evidence. Individuals of that class had long since been given their blue tickets and flown southward with the wild ducks, never to return. A feeling of good fellowship prevaded everywhere. The knocker with his hammer slept peacefully in the cemeteries where he could knock no more. Everyone was busy and at Lodi more help needed to harvest the lucious grapes, the vines from which they grew groaning under the heavy burden. At Woodland our host wished us to remain longer, but we could not spare the time. Here we also called upon an uncle of the Bullivant boys who regailed us with a sack of walnuts and box of dried figs. With regret we turned southward while pressing invitations to return rang in our ears, and at 12:30 Sunday, passed through the beautiful Mission San Jose within sight of San Francisco bay and our homes. A trip full of pleasant memories was soon over, but we voted one and all to some day again return to the land where prosperity, happiness and hospitality were the outstanding features.

NOVEL PAPER WAS FILED

A novel and unusual paper was filed in the county recorder's office on Tuesday. It was an alien property custodian notice. It was filed for record at the request of Francis P. Garvan, as alien property custodian. He directed J. C. Hughes and P. L. Scheer to seize and hold for him a certain parcel of property belonging to the estate of George Samsreither at Daly City. The only heir at law and next of kin is Mrs. Ledule residing in Germany and considered an alien enemy. Messrs. Hughes and Scheer have seized the land and have placed a notice thereon declaring it to be the property of the custocian. It is not known what disposition he will make of it. This is the first instrument of its kind ever recorded in San Mateo county.

K. TOMITA APPLIES FOR LETTERS OF ADMINISTRATION

K. Tomita has applied in the superior court for letters of administration upon the estate of S. Tomita, who died on October 20, 1919. The estate comprises of a deposit in a Burlingame bank amounting to $565.81. The deceased leaves a wife ard four minor children residing in Japan.

AERIAL COMMISSION TO VISIT REDWOOD

"Rond-the-World Aerial Derby" commission arrived in San Francisco from the east yesterday. The commission is headed by Commodore Louis Beaumont. The commission is being entertained by a committee of 20 appointed by Mayor Rolph. The members of the commission accompanied by members of the Pacific Aero Club of San Francisco will arrive here in automobile at 12 o'clock Sunday to enjoy a picnic and dinner at the Redwood City Aviation field. They will, while here, be guests of Professor Frank Bryant and managers of the field. Several flights will be made for their entertainment. The commission also comes here to inspect the field for a landing place for eastern airplanes which will soon start from New York and other points. The commission will leave here for Stanford University at 2:30 o'clock.

THE WEEK'S EVENTS IN LOCAL CIRCLES

The name of John MacBain of Menlo Park for $10 was in inadvertently omitted in the list of donations to "Pioneer Booth," published in last week's issue of this paper.

Judge Griffin on Thursdty united in marriage Emilio Marini, aged 28 and Miss Maria Del Chicca, aged 22. Both young people reside at San Gregorio.

Yesterday the Western Well Boring company of San Jose which is lifting a well for the Pratt-Lowe Canning Company at the southern portion of town struck a strata of gravel at a depth of 300 feet which produces a fine flow of water. The canning company is now assured of plenty water for their new cannery to be established here next spring.

Charles Ellinger, a coast side farmer and his wife had a thrilling experience last Thursday night on his way home from Redwood City. When about half way up the King's Mountain grade the lights of the machine were extinguished and at a short distance the car went over the grade and dropped a distance of thirty feet. Mr. and Mrs. Ellinger escaped with slight injuries.

The Red Cross drive for membership will begin in this city on November second and continue to November 11. It will be a membership drive only. Owing to the fact that the local Red Cross Society forwarded to headquarters the sum of $1000 from its treasury none but a membership drive will be made. Solicitors will call on all residents next week. Pay the required dollar and be cheerful about it.

The Home Garage has been taken over by P. J. Foley and sons. They wil conduct it as an up-to-date establishment. Mr. Foley has resigned his position at Camp Fremont to give the enterprise all his attention. His sons who will assist him are all expert machinists. The Home Garage is located in the Foley building on Broadway.

United States Postal Inspector W. R. Madden of San Francisco has posted a notice in the local postoffice building inviting proposals for a new postoffice location. All proposals or propositions must be in the hands of the inspector by November 30, 1919. The lease of the present postoffice will expire on August first, 1920. The notice calls for a 3000 foot floor space. The new lease will be for 10 years. It is the intention of the government to get the new location nearer the depot in order to avoid the extra expense of a mail carrier.

Captain Norman MacKenzie who was recently mustered out of the service, will open dental parlors in Palo Alto next week. Mr. MacKenzie is a skillful operator and a dental surgeon of ability. The young man is certain to do well in the college town.

The pretty Albert home in Redwood Highlands was sold this week to Maurice Sarsfield. The deed was recorded yesterday.

BARG DAMAGE SUIT SETTLED OUT OF COURT DISMISSED

The damage suit begun some months ago against Ex-County Recorder William H. Barg by Anita Davis and her husband is to be dismissed in the superior court very soon. The case was set for trial before a jury for next Monday. The attorney for plaintiff yesterday notified County Clerk Mrs. E. M. Nash that the suit had been adjusted out of court and that a notice of dismissal would be forthcoming at once. This will be glad news to the many friends of the ex-official.

On February first last Mr. Barg, while driving his automobile on the state highway near Redwood City collided with a machine driven by Anita Davis and her husband, B. D. Davis. The Davises were severely injured. The plaintiff filed a suit against Mr. Barg asking damages in the sum of $26,000. Kitty David who was with the plaintiffs also brought a damage suit against Mr. Barg for a similar amount.

The date of the trial of this case has not yet been set. Most likely this suit has also been adjusted and will be dismissed.

$400 LITTLE HIGH FOR KEG OF WATER

Four hundred dollars is the price which Manuel Ratto, a gardener of Redwood City, paid for a twenty-gallon keg of water according to his complaint to Sheriff Michael Sheehan. Ratto says two men went to him and offered to sell him whisky for $20 a gallon, and after tasting a sample, he decided to buy. When he tapped the keg, he says he found it contained nothing more than the liquid used in the old days as "chasers." The men who sold him the "whisky" were strangers, he says but he believes other San Mateo county people have been victimized to the extent of $2500 in the same manner, but are afraid to complain for fear of arrest.

Two men were arrested in San Francisco yesterday for selling two 47-gallon barrels of water for $1600, representing it to be whisky.

ADDITIONAL LOCALS

Gordon M. Seely, a former resident of Redwood City and for over a year secretary of the Pacific Coast Detective Agency of Seattle, Washington ,was a visitor to Redwood City during the past week. Mr. Seely is down from the north on a short visit. He may not return as he has been offered a good opportunity to resume the study of law in San Francisco.

Mr. and Mrs. John Dielman left Wednesday for Sacramento and Auburn to spend a week with friends.

The Enterprise Bakery, that has been closed for the past week owing to the improvements going on on Broadway, will re-open today with a big supply of choice cakes, bread etc.

Mrs. Andrew Carnegie has written a personal letter to Miss Laura Barton, the librarian, asking to forward to her any articles written concerning the death of her husband. Miss Barton has sent her a copy of the Times-Gazette containing such a notice. Mrs. Carnegie is making a collection of all the obituary notices of the noted philanthropist.

Mr. Baily, assistant manager of the Pacific Gas and Electric company of this city, has moved from Mountain Vitw to the Dr. Yount home in Redwood Highlands. Mr. Baily has been connected with the company for many years and has always resided in Mountain View where he owns two valuable fruit ranches.

CASE WILL BE TRIED BEHIND CLOSED DOORS

Justice of the Peace Ray Griffin has promised Mrs. Harry S. Dana, chairman of the Welfare and Public Health Service of San Mateo county, that when the cases of George Perry and Louis Martin, involving the names of several Pescadero school children, come up on November 7th for preliminary hearing, the trials will be held behind closed doors and all minors and witnesses who are not actually testifying shall be excluded from the courtroom, providing the attorney for the defense does not demand that the trials be public. It is contended that for all parties concerned and for the good name of the county, the hearings should be private.

APPRAISER APPOINTED FOR SARAH S. COBURN ESTATE

Yesterday Judge Buck appointed H. W. Schaberg inheritance tax appraiser of the estate of Sarah Satira Coburn, deceased. The estate is valued in the neighborhood of $350,000.

By the terms of the will Charles E. Lipp, brother of the decedent and William H. Lipp, son, are named as executors to serve without bonds. All the children of the decedent are left the sum of $5 each.

The executors are also appointed trustees of the estate and the income from said estate is to be given Mrs. Catherine Lipp, wife of the decedent, during the period of her natural life. At her death the trustees are to devote the income to Alice Lipp, Sarah Lipp, Fanny Lipp ,Charles Barton Jr., and Vera Mooseberger. W. H. Lipp is to receive no share of the estate except the $5.

The will recites that he is well provided for and does not need any assistance from the estate. Mrs. Lillian M. Barton is not to receive any more than the $5. The trustees are empowered to sell the real property and to invest same according to their judgment and to act for the best interest of the estate. It is the wish of the decedent that his wife be well provided for during her life. The trustees are to consider Alice Lipp, Sarah Lipp, Fanny Lipp, Vera Mooseberger and Charles Barton Jr. during the life time of Mrs. Catherine Lipp and to assist and help them from time to time out of the income of the estate. The executors have applied for letters testamentary and their petition states that he esate consisting of real property and cash in bank valued at $15,000.

JUDGE BUCK TAKES AN AERIAL SPIN

Judge Buck, for over a quarter of a century the superior judge of San Mateo county, had the time of his life yesterday when he made a flight to the clouds. Accompanied by Professor Bryant he "hopped off" the local field at 8 o'clock in an up-to-date aeroplane and reached an altitude of 2000 feet going over Stanford University, Palo Alto, Menlo Park and Atherton. The judge remained in the air for nearly an hour enjoying the thrills of the flight and landing successfully on the local field close to nine o'clock. When seen after landing Judge Buck was just as enthusiastic as aboy who had taken his first automobile ride.

Aerial navigation will have no greater booster than Judge Buck.

ATTORNEY GENERAL FILES REPLY BRIEF IN DR. NORTHCOTT APPEAL

Ross and Ross on Wednesday received the reply brief of the Attorney General to their brief filed in the court o fappeals on August 28 last in the case of the People against Dr. E. Northcott found guilty by a jury in the superior court last June of the murder of Elizabeth Reed, the army nurse.

The brief contains 75 type written pages and makes an effort to reply to the able and convincing argument advanced by the doctor's lawyers. The brief filed by Ross and Ross contained 78 printed pages.

The Northcott case is set for hearing in the upper court for next Monday. The short time allowed will not permit the attorneys to prepare their reply brief. Ross and Ross will appear before the upper court on Monday and ask for a continuance of the case for a short time to enable them to prepare their brief. It is more than likely that the request will be granted in view of the fact that the attorney general took 63 days to prepare his argument when he is allowed only 15 days. The court gave him several extensions of time to prepare his brief.

Dr. Northcott was in Redwood City on Wednesday conferring with his attorneys.

P. P. CHAMBERLAIN 79 YEARS OF AGE

County Treasury P. P. Chamberlain, who has been the keeper of the county funds for the past thirty-six years, celebrated his seventy-ninth birthday last Saturday.

A number of his friends arranged a dinner party in Hotel Sequoia that was enjoyed by all those present. It was a merry party and many were the well-wishes extended to the vigorous, hale and hearty treasurer. The tables were laden with all the good things of the season and with a profusion of flowers, the gift of the many lady admirers of Mr. Chamberlain. A. D. Walsh was the toastmaster of the occasion. Witty speeches were made by H. W. Schaberg, Guy P. Hull, John MacBain and D. P. Flynn.

The genial guest responded in his usual happy mood, entertaining with an interesting account of his recent trip East when he attended the annual encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic at Columbus, Ohio. Following the dinner, the eighteen guests repaired to the Sequoia club where cards were enjoyed for several hours.

Those present were P. P. Chamberlain, Guy P. Hull, J. F. Johnston, George E. Stafford, Dan P. Flynn, Gilman B. Merrill, Michael Sheehan, Ole Johnson, Henry Steinberger, T. P. Maloney, Joseph B. Perry, John MacBain, Joseph Dickey, H. W. Schaberg, Asa Hull, A. D. Walsh and J. A. Faulkner.

PROMINENT MEN DISCUSS MUNICIPAL WHARFAGE

The Executive Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and several representatives of the board of Town Trustees met last Tuesday evening. A plan for a new municipal wharf that has been a mooted question in Redwood City for many years was discussed and definite arrangements made to go on with the work. For over 20 years it has been the dream of the people of Redwood City to have a municipal wharf. It would seem that their dream is soon to be realized, thanks to the energetic work of the local Chamber of Commerce.

A new site has been proposed by the harbor committee for the municipal wharf. It is on the west side of what is known as the "Bend" on Redwood channel, just a short distance north of the Frank Tannery plant. The necessary land for the building of the municipal docks and warehouses has been assured by the Tacoma Land Company, owners of several hundred acres of marsh land on the eastern edge of the city. J. W. Bourdette, representative of the Tacoma Land Company and Henry W. Steinberger, manager of the Frank Tanning Company, were both present at the Tuesday night meeting and gave every assrance to the committee of the heartiest co-operation of their respective concerns in carrying out the proposed idea.

The local Chamber of Commerce was given to understand some time ago by engineers of the River and Harbor Committee that Redwood could never expect any further appropriation from the government for dredging out the channel until the city owned its municipal wharf. Several years ago, the idea of constructing a wharf at the foot of Main street was taken up by the harbor committee of the Chamber of Commerce on a site offered by the Frank Tanning Company and plans for building the wharf were well under way when the war broke out and all activity in the matter had to be temporarily suspended.

LARGE PERCENTAGE OF THE STATE IS ILLITERATE

It was discovered during the war when the various exemption boards were examining the drafted men that there was an alarming percentage of the population of the state illiterate. It was found that nearly 100,000 persons, principally foreigners, who could not read or write.

To remedy this alarming state of affairs the last legislature provided for the taking of the census of the grammar school children throughout the state. A law was also enacted raising the age limit from 16 to 18 years and compelling all children to attend school until their eighteenth birthday. The law is called the "Compulsory Educational Act."

The taking of the census will begin today and continue to November 30. The census of all children between the ages of one year and 21 years is to be taken. All illiterates found in any of the districts of the county will be compelled to go to school. Census marshals have been appointed as follows in the various districts:

NEED FOR PROTECTIVE TARIFF

Citing increasing imports and decreasing customs revenues in support of its argument, the Republican Publicity Association, in a statement issued by the President of the organization, Hon. Jonathan Bourne, Jr., urges restoration of protective tariffs. The statement says:

"Over 72 per cent of our entire importations, amounting to $3,096,000,000 in value, came in free of duty during the fiscal year ending June 30, last. The Democratic free list gave passes to something over $2,230,000,000 worth of foreign goods. 'Oh, these were all crude materials,' say the Democrats, 'to be used by our mills in manufacturing goods.' But they were not. Crude materials accounted for but one-half that enormous free list; while foodstuffs, manufactures unfinished, and manufactures ready for consumption made up the other half, or $1,113,000,000 in value, and these are the three classes of production which give us greatest concern in competition at home. The average rate of duty on dutiable imports for the year was 21.3 per cent, but the swollen free list pulled the average rate of duty on total imports down to a shade under six per cent. Despite the fact that imports for the fiscal year 1919 exceeded those for the last fiscal year under the protective policy—1913—by 71 per cent, the dutiable imports for 1919—$866,000,000—were but $40,000,000 greater than the dutiable imports for 1913—$826,000,000. Those for 1919 paid into the public treasury but $184,458,000; those for 1913 paid in $318,142,000.

"Our imports for 1913 totalled $1,813,000,000, of which 54 per cent came in free. The average rate on dutiable imports was nearly 39 per cent, and the average rate on total imports was 17.7 per cent. The rates in those days were protective rates, not merely revenue rates. Their purpose was to protect American markets for American producers and to preserve American wage standards to American workmen, and they did it. Now we face a peculiar situation: Wages have more than doubled since 1913. Doubtless they have doubled in Europe. But that has acted to increase the disparity in wage scales between the two continents. With an average, say, of $1.50 a day in Europe, and $3.00 a day in America, in 1913, the manufacturer in Europe had an advantage of $1.50 per operative over us, whereas he now has, under a doubling of wage scales, $3.00 per operative. Meanwhile, our tariff rate on all imports is but one-third what it was in 1913, our free list is almost a billion and a quarter greater, and such imports as do pay 'revenue only' duties today, pay little more than half the duties exacted under protection.

"In 1913 our total ordinary revenues were $723,783,000 of which customs duties paid 44 per cent. In 1919 out total ordinary revenues were $5,146,883,000, of which customs collections provided under four per cent. Certain sources of revenue, such as the liquor taxes, are no longer available to us, yet this Government must continue for years to come to raise not less than $4,000,000,000 annually, and manufacturing industries must undoubtedly bear the brunt of this taxation. How is it to be done? Recent debates on tungsten and zinc tariff amendments prove that the Democratic party has not receded one step from its championsip of free trade. If Europe and Asia are given continued free access to our market, if Great Britain with her vast scheme of imperial preferences, is aided by the free traders in marketing her goods in this country, certainly our manufacturing industries can never hope to keep their mills going and their operatives employed; much less be milked for taxes to meet the Government budget. The answer is so plain that he who runs may read. It is protection, and plenty of it, to American industries; but not until Mr. Wilson and his followers are dislodged from power can this country hope for re-establishment of that principle."

That sufficient time might be had to impress the younger generations with the citizenship ideals of Theodore Roosevelt and to bring this Americanization home to all the people, the memorial campaign to perpetuate his memory was continued through this week, according to announcements sent out by the national leaders of all parties who are the active workers of the Roosevelt Memorial Association.

This has been done in all communities, regardless of whether county apportionments have been realized. According to national leaders the social and industrial crises facing the country afford an opportune time for the teaching of pure Americanism such as has come from the Roosevelt Memorial campaign.

On Sunday, throughout California and the nation an intensive educational campaign was begun from the pulpits, while Monday, "Americanization Day," as proclaimed by Governor Stephens, was observed in public schools generally.

E. E. Cunningham, chairman for San Mateo county, has announced that the campaign will be continued here until Saturday, November 1.

By that time it is expected that thousands of subscribers in California will be enrolled as life members in the Roosevelt Memorial Association.

According to reports from the national headquarters, the entire Nation has responded to the call to memorialize the Rooseveltian ideals. While many states have not completed the collection of their apportionments owing to problems of local interest during the last week, additional time was asked in which to complete the funds and the educational campaign.

WARREN SHARRON SEEKS RE-ELECTION

Warren Sharron, the progressive supervisor of San Francisco, is seeking re-election. It is to be earnestly hoped he will be successful at the election next Tuesday. The printing fraternity of San Mateo is interested in his election. He is one of the craft, having for years conducted one of the largest printing establishments in San Francisco. Mr. Shannon is an honest, capable, efficient and trustworthy official. All commuters registered in San Francisco are urged to vote for him next Tuesday. He is one of the most practical men on the board of supervisors of San Francisco and should be retained on the board.

PEOPLE IN THIS LOCALITY ARE INTERESTED IN MAYOR ROLPH

The people of the peninsula are interested in the election of James Rolph for mayor of San Francisco. He has given the people of that city a splendid administration. He has done more for San Francisco than any other mayor has done in many years. Mr. Rolph has shown his honesty in all official acts, has been progressive and has advanced the city's interest many years by his wise and efficient policy. It would be nothing short of a calamity if he were defeated at the polls next Tuesday. As the city grows so will grow the peninsula and therefore it is necessary that honest and progressive officials be elected at the forthcoming election. The people of San Mateo county are keenly interested and are watching the result of next Tuesday's contest. We sincerely hope that Mr. Rolph will receive an overwhelming vote. His summer home is in the county and that is another reason why the people want to see him elected. We earnestly urge all commuters voting in the city to cast their ballot on next Tuesday for the progressive mayor.

INTERNATIONAL TRADE CONFERENCE AT ATLANTIC

By JOHN J. ARNOLD
(Supervisor International Business Department of Bank of Italy.)

The business interests of two hemispheres are confronted with the immediate task of restoring the normal economic existence of their countries. No matter what statesmen may accomplish, business must be carried on. Neither Europe nor America is what it was before the war. Old conditions have disappeared and a new world is before us. The older nations of Europe are in distress; while the United States of America is prosperous. This is why the Chamber of Commerce of the United States has invited Great Britain, France, Italy and Belgium to this International Trade Conference.

The foreign delegates are all here, while thus far only the American members of committees are in attendance. These cover Credit and Finance, Chemicals, Coal, Foodstuffs, Metals, Petroleum, Textiles, Reconstruction Supplies, Shipping and Permanent Organization.

Thus far the prevailing thought seems to be that this conference should effect a temporary organization with power to formulate a definite plan or constitution and then to call another conference, inviting additional nations to participate for the purpose of effecting an organization of a permanent character, this to take place as soon as possible and at any rate within a period of six months.

While an International Chamber of Commerce has been in existence since 1905, meeting every two years the last meeting was held in 1914 just prior to the outbreak of the great war. Instead of continuing this organization, it is likely that a new one will be brought into being, admittting to membership such nations who become members of the proposed League of Nations, one of its purposes being to see to it that commercial and business interests can thus give expression to their views with regard to the activities of the League in which organization provision has been made for organized labor to voice its views and needs.

POSTMASTERS ELECT DELEGATES TO CONVENTION

Postmasters Fay, Dunbar and Storke were selected by the postmasters of California to represent them and present a line of argument before the Congressional Commission for the re-classification of salaries of all postal employees.

Following is the brief filed in the conference held at Washington, D. C., October 14, 1919:

There have been no changes in the classification of salaries of postmasters of the presidential class since March 3, 1883.

We believe it will be admitted, without question, that the conditions surrounding the appointment of postmasters in 1883 were entirely different, both from a service and a personal standpoint, than they were today.

Under the system as it existed then and for many years afterwards qualification and ability were not considered of first importance and the appointee was not required to give much of his time to the duties of his office. He was only expected to assume the responsibility of accounting for the funds which came into his hands.

In nearly all cases, postmasters had other and more lucrative business or employment.

Postmasters' duties were greatly added to by reason of the war, but it is far from our intention to urge any increase of salary or other personal benefit for any war work or activity.

We assert that there was no more loyal or patriotic body of men engaged in war work than the postmasters of the United States, and we resent even the suggestion that we have received or now desire to receive any reward whatsoever for the many and diversified services rendered by us.

However, it is a fact that, outside of war work, the postoffice has gradually become the agency for all the other departments at Washington. The Treasury, Agriculture, War and Navy Departments, and the Census Bureau, are constantly and regularly calling puon the postmaster for information and services. It is almost a daily occurence to receive a request which reads "by permission of the Postmaster General" for some statistical information or for some service outside of postal affairs.

Since the present schedule of postmasters pay was formulated the following activities have been introduced, and not one of them is directly represented in the receipts, viz: Postal Savings, rural delivery, village delivery, central accountancy, parcel post, and branches of the dead letter office.

As stated at the outset of this brief, the present salaries of postmasters were fixed thirty-six years ago when the receipts of the postoffice department were $45,650,-624.83, as compared with the receipts of the fiscal year ending June 20, 1918, which were $388,975,962.24. This is more illuminated as to the need of re-classification and re-adjustment which will increase postmasters' salaries than any other argument we can advance.

SAN MATEO COUNTY WILL BE REPRESENTED AT BIG SHOW

San Mateo county will be represented at the California International Live Stock Show to be held in the California Building on the Marina, November 1 to 8, by the Ormondale company of Portola, showing Shorthorn cattle and E. B. McFarland of San Mateo, showing Ayrshire cattle.

Work is progressing rapidly on building the interior of the California Biulding, which was one of the most popular on the Panama-Pacific Exposition grounds in 1915, so that it will accommodate approximately 1000 head of live stock, in addition to poultry and rabbits. The big arena is now in the course of construction and when completed will have a seating capacity of 5000.

LOUISE DEVOLDER SEEKS A DIVORCE

Louise Devolder, through her attorney, James T. O'Keefe, has commenced an action in the superior court against her husband, Cyril Devolder, on the ground of extreme cruelty. The Devolders were married in Alaska on January 14, 1912. They have no community property but have two minor children, John aged seven and Alice, aged two years. The mother asks for the custody of the minors. The couple resides in Daly City.

Goldie, who died at San Mateo on October 9, 1919. The estate consists of a one-half undivided interest in a house and lot in San Mateo valued at les sthan $10,000. MOTOR TRUCKS ON HIGHWAYS

In the current issue of California Taxpayers' Journal, Mr. R. M. Morton Sacramento County Highway Engineer ,discusses at length the situation with reference to the abuse of modern highways due to the overloading of trucks. The report shows that the use of trucks is advancing very rapidly. In 1917, 128,157 motor trucks were built. In 1918, 227,-250 trucks were sold and the productoin for the present year is estimated at 327,930. The trucks built this year will have a total tonnage capacity of 550,000 tons. Two hundred and seventy-one thousand, or 83%, will be of the two-ton size and less, and their capacity will be about 59½% of the total truck capacity to be built. Trucks from two to four tons capacity will constitute 11% of the number, and 21% of the total capacity. Trucks of five tons will constitute 5% of the number built, and 16% of the total capacity. Trucks to carry more than five tons will constitute 1% of the number built, and include only 3% of the total capacity.

Mr. Morton goes on to show that it is the trucks in excess of five tons capacity, and also the overloaded five-ton trucks that do the most damage to concrete pavements, and he brings out a strong argument for stringent regulation of loading. Much technical information is presented in the article, which is worthy of careful consideration by county officials throughout the tsate.

MENLO PARK NEWS OF ALL SORTS.

Doings at Peninsula Garden Spot As Told in Breezy Style By Our Reporters

Albert Schwabacher and family have closed their pretty Atherton home and have opened a house in the city.

Mrs. T. S. Baker is now the acknowledged woman golf champion of California having won that title at a recent tournament at Monterey. Mrs. Baker resides at Atherton.

A. Stanwood Murphy, a wealthy Pasadena resident, has leased the Mrs. William Cluff home on Glenwood avenue for six months with a privilege of renewing the lease at its expiration for another half year. Mrs. Cluff has taken apartments in the city for the winter.

M. I. Frederick and Al Coenen, experienced automobile mechanics, have taken over the Camp Garage. The young men are going to establish a machine shop in connection with the garage in order to be able to do all repair work promptly and efficiently. Both men have had thirteen years experience in this line and are qualified to handle all business that may be intrusted to them. They will make a specialty of work on high class cars. C. K. Reandeau will continue with the gasoline station and will sell all accessories in connection with the garage.

Mrs. Rothfuss, who conducted the R. K. shop in the Maloney block during the time the camp was in existence, has leased the Cora Parker home for her mother and father, brother and sister who arrived recently from Kansas.

Menlo Park will once again have a moving picture show. An experienced movie man was here during the week negotiating for the lease of the Triumph theatre. He is receiving every encouragement from business men and others to start and it is likely that he will launch the enterprise. Fred Nessler, C. K. Reandeau and J. P. Maloney are his sponsors.

Charles A. Emise has taken the Richard Girvin Sr. place at Atherton for the winter months. Mr. Emise is an easterner.

C. E. Cotton, the lumber magnate, has purchased the Jessup place on the Middlefield road at Atherton. The building has never been occupied and was erected two years ago for speculation. The new owner is going to improve the grounds at once.

John Roche, who was employed at the ship yards at South San Francisco as a steam fitter up until the strike, has gone to Colinga to take a similar position with the Colinga Mohawk Oil Company owned by Mr. Myerstein of Woodside. David Roche is also employed by the same concern.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Mulcahy have taken apartments at the St. Francis hotel in San Francisco, having closed their country home at Menlo Park for the winter. Mrs. Mulcahy will leave for New York early in December and will stay there until March, then going to Paris to remain for two or three months before returning to California.

The old Felton home that once resounded with the merry laughter of society maids and matrons is shortly to be wrecked. During the week Charles N. Felton and wife departed for Redlands to make that place their future home. Every vestige of furniture, priceless bric-a-brac and costly fixtures were removed leaving the big mansion bare as a barn. It is to be torn down next spring. It is understood that the land is to be sold during the coming year in small parcels. During the heyday of his fame and popularity the late Senator Charles N. Felton entertained a great deal at this home. Here he entertained Judge McKenna justice of the U. S. supreme court, foreign potentates and ambassadors, Washington officials and other important personages. Mr. Felton spent two terms in congress and a portion of a term in the United States Senate making many warm friends in Washington during that time. His great wealth enabled him to entertain lavishly and he spared no expense to properly receive his numerous guests at his palatial residence. Time has made its inroads on human affairs. Mr. Felton has passed the great beyond, the place he loved so dearly and where he loved to entertain his friends will soon be no more and like the owner is destined to be forgotten.

Miss E. M. Warren has closed her pretty home in the hills back of Atherton and has taken apartments in the city for the winter months.

Mrs. Cora Parker has gone to Fresno to spend a short time with Mrs James Bruce, a former resident of Menlo Park.

Charles M. Holbrook and family have closed their Menlo Park home and have opened their city house at 1802 Washington street.

Plans for $10,000 worth of improvements to be made in the store occupied by Roos Bros. at 125 University avenue were announced today. The exterior of the establishment is to be completely remodeled to include a handsome arcade. The windows will be raised above their present height, and a marble base and mosaic floor will be built. Later it is planned to improve the interior also. The work is expected to commence next week.

Dr. A. E. Black, who was a prominent resident of Menlo Park 20 years ago, was divorced from his second wife in San Francisco yesterday. Before the decree was granted Dr. Blake made a plea from the witness stand to have their young daughter placed in a convent, saying he did not want her reared among "cigarette smokers, cocktail drinkers, gabfesters and gossip mongers." Judge Shortall, however, awarded her to the mother's custody along with $125 a month alimony.

D. Painton of San Francisco who recently purchased the ten-acre tract opposite the beautiful home of Captain Lyon has moved one of the camp buildings to the place and is transforming it into a cosy residence.

Mrs. James Logan has returned from a motor trip to Los Angeles and other southern points. She was accompanied on the trip by her daughter, Mrs. Clyde Segur and Mr. Segur. They had a delightful time. The Segurs live at Los Altos. Mr. Segur is a retired oil magnate.

Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Douglas of Oakland have bought the O. G. Muzzy place in Runnymede and will make it their home.

There has been a big flight of ducks from the north to the local marsh during the past ten days. William Carnduff and W. T. Casey have secured the limit on several occasions lately. Of course both are expert hunters who know the haunts and characteristics of the birds.

Harry Baker, who conducted a photograph establishment here during the war, was operated upon in a Stockton hospital last Monday. It is doubtful if he wil recover.

W. S. Bower and Miss Blanche Clark have been appointed to take the census of minor children of the Menlo Park school district and have already begun work. The census takers receive fifty cents per hour for their work. Miss Reba Pearce will take the census at Las Lomitas.

Arthur Thompson, an expert tonsorial artist, has taken over the barber shop in the Maloney block. Mr Thompson is going to reside here and being a good tradesman is sure of success.

Joseph A. Donohoe has taken a house on Pacific avenue for the winter. The family will move up to the city next week. The Donohoes will make week-end visits to the home during the winter.
